Chapter Overview

The chart below has an overview of the vocabulary kids should learn and how for this chapter.

Learning Targets are the vocabulary that this lesson teaches. I listed the activities for teaching the vocabulary as well as the Assessment section with ideas on how to check kids are learning the vocabulary. The Materials section is a brief overview of the things you'll need for this chapter.

The schedule with more detailed instructions is on the following pages.

Suggested Schedule

Please remember that this should be adjusted based on your kids. If they need to do less in a day or want to do more, please do not feel you need to follow this exactly. Go at the pace that works for you and your kids.

When reading the stories, read in Spanish (or have kids listen to the audio recording) and then have kids translate the story into English. If your kids can't read yet, read the stories and do the activities together for additional listening practice.

I have planned about 6 days for this chapter. Below is an approximate schedule. Always begin each day with greetings (Buenos días or buenas tardes, ¿Cómo estás?) and calendar time.

You can also find examples of what I did with my kids in this post on my site.

Day 1

1. Follow the instructions for Total Physical Response (TPR) for the list of words in the first column of the curriculum map.

2. Start PQA.

Tip: PQA is an area that may need to be broken up over 2 or 3 days depending on your kids' interest level and age. If you want to break it up, do PQA with one verb at a time. For instance, ask the questions for "quiere" one day and then "está" the next.

Day 2

1. Review vocabulary with TPR by saying the words (in a random order) and going through the list at least once.

2. Complete PQA.

3. Create a mini-story at the end of the PQA questions using the outline provided.

Day 3

1. Review vocabulary with TPR by saying the words (in a random order) and going through the list at least once OR have kids read the mini-story from the previous lesson.

2. Do the movie talk activity.

3. Have kids complete the movie talk reading and any corresponding activities.

Day 4

1. Review the vocabulary that is most challenging to your kids with TPR saying, the words a few times in random order OR play Memoria (Memory), Matamoscas (Flyswatter), or Peces (Go Fish).

2. Read Felicia story and complete the reading activity.

Suggested Schedule Cont.

Day 5

1. Review the vocabulary with TPR if needed OR play one of the games mentioned in l. of Day 4.
2. Play Partner Listening Game.
3. Complete the Todo sobre mí activity.

Day 6

Read chapter 2 in ¿Dónde está el chocolate? and complete the reading activity.

Additional Resources

Reading is very important for language acquisition, so reading in Spanish for even just a few minutes each day can be a big help. I've included a few ideas and resources so kids can have more exposure to the vocabulary for this chapter.

1. Kids can read the story called Poco y los m&ms on page 5 in the Silly Spanish Stories Book. Or they can read along while they listen to the video. I created a Kahoot (an online trivia game) with questions based on the story. Just click this link to start the game.

2. You can use pretty much any picture book to talk about emotions, where someone is, and what someone wants. Most can be used to talk about where someone goes/is going as well. Reading the books together (or even just showing the pictures) and asking the questions below will give more input for the vocabulary:

- ¿Cómo está (person/animal in the picture)?
- ¿Dónde está (person/animal in the picture)?
- ¿Qué no tiene (person/animal in the picture)?
- ¿Qué quiere (person/animal in the picture)?
- ¿Adónde va (person/animal in the picture)?
- ¿Va (person/animal) con su amigo o solo (alone)?

You can continue to practice the vocabulary from the last chapter with these questions:

- ¿Cómo es (a person/animal/thing in the picture)?
- ¿Qué tiene (a person in the picture)?
- ¿Qué hay en el dibujo (the drawing) o la foto?
- ¿Cómo se llama (person/animal)?
- ¿Dónde vive (person/animal)?

3. Here are some songs/books by native speakers:
